

How to measure the height of a window

Measure the total vertical distance from the window sill to the top of the window frame (shown in red)